THE MORE WE HAVE THE LESS WE HAVE

At a time when food specialists the world over are issuing dire warnings that unless we increase our food production we will be unable to feed the growing world population for many years, we read in Life magazine of the difficulty the United States government is having in trying to dispose of a vast accumulation of foodstuffs—corn, potatoes, eggs, cottonseed, etc.

Among the surplus items listed are 76 million pounds of dried eggs, 50 million tons of potatoes, corn to supply the United States in all its corn products for the next five years, wheat to bake 12 loaves of bread for every man, woman and child in the world, as well as a vast quantity of cotton, butter and prunes.

This situation first underlines two major needs. One is the stabilization of farm prices, and the other is to make a desperate effort to place this food at the disposal of those who need it. Both these are costly, very costly, but both are urgent.

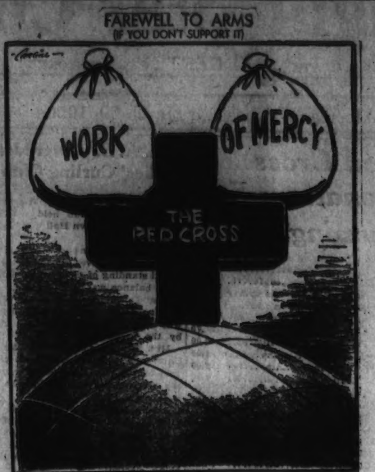

The need for stabilized prices for farm products is a theme which has been much talked of lately, and has received a considerable amount of adverse publicity in the daily press. Their opinions are no doubt sincere, and not without foundation... but this much we know... had the United States Government abandoned its policy of the purchase of surplus farm products and allowed the market to glut the open market there would have been a sharp recession in farm prices. From there on we must speculate... but our speculation soon leads us to the conclusion that such a recession in farm prices would have had widespread and very unpleasant results.

The farmer is, we must admit, only one of the cogs in our national economy... but, due to the size of his industry and due to the peculiar position it occupies in our order, it seems that he is the keystone in our economic structure. Perhaps the chief factor that has enabled us to keep out of a depression for so long since the close of the last war is the fact that farm incomes have remained at a fairly good level. But they are threatened badly, and only by strong action can they be maintained. Bonuses of any kind are expensive... but a depression is more expensive. May we hope that the Government does not bend to the will of those who would persuade it to take a line of action that would place our present state of prosperity in jeopardy.

The second need, the need for the distribution of food, has its foundation in our future international prospects. We are living in a world that is in a rapid state of flux. International relations of ten years ago have no bearing now... and the next ten years may see many vital changes in the picture. For all practical purposes we have lost our grip on many who were once considered as being either unimportant in world affairs or as having a loose connection with "our side." Now we see nations after nation, which we formerly considered as potential allies becoming either peoples of free choice, or being overshadowed by the spread of communism.

Nothing could do more to further disintegrate our position in the international world than that we should have food surpluses which we are forced to destroy while people in less fortunate lands go hungry. The remedy may be hard to find but it is worthy of great effort. High cost of transporting and distributing some of the products does not at all simplify the problem, and the fact that should we make wholesale distribution of free or very low priced foodstuffs would have an adverse effect on the prices obtained by home growers in the countries concerned adds a further complication... but still we are faced with the elementary fact that surpluses of food in one place and hunger in another is one of the primary causes of dissatisfaction, one of the seeds which can grow into the plant called war. Moreover we know that as the world population increases further this problem of distribution must be solved in the interests of humanity everywhere.

Our place in the world is shrinking, and even the atomic bomb cannot save us if our friends are lost.

Joe Rutledge Says

By Joseph Lister Rutledge

SHUTTING THE DOOR ON FREEDOM

A recent issue of the Wall Street Journal commented sadly on a triumphant political speech made by Food Minister John Strachey in addressing a group of Scottish electors. Mr. Strachey said, proudly, that only 350 Britons now had incomes, after taxes, of more than $14,000, where, before the war there were no less than 11,000 in that fortunate bracket. Said the Wall Street Journal: "Mr. Strachey boasts that the door is quietly shutting on the free economy in the cradle of freedom."

A business friend of ours, commenting on Mr. Strachey's statement, took the argument a step farther. He suggested that the Food Minister hadn't made a very complete case. For instance, he hadn't mentioned whether the government, in cutting down the number of heavy taxpayers, hadn't by the same token cut down its own income. He admitted that no one but the government knows just how the total income of the 11,000 high income earners of 1939 compares with the total income of the present-day group. But our friend had done a bit of figuring. He explained, "One thing is pretty simple. If you multiply 11,000 by $14,000 you get $154,000,000. If you multiply 350 by $14,000 you get $4,900,000 a difference in income of $149,100,000. Assuming that the amount had gone to benefit the public, which surely was what Mr. Strachey was implying, each of the approximately fifty million people of Britain got at his share $3.

Our friend wondered what each of them would have done with their $3. Probably used it to pay his own high taxes, or to help support the growing number of government employees. His wonder grew as he reflected. Was it possible that Mr. Strachey, when he was not making speeches, or his listeners, when they had time to reflect on his words, ever suspected that this minor $3 benefit might have resulted in a poorer Britain? How much had they lost when a creative force that had helped to make them great was discouraged?

The "nation of shopkeepers," which the great Napoleon could scorn, but could not master, as he had mastered so much of his world, had learned some thing from their shopkeeping. They had learned the potency of the incentives of progress and profit, and about these ideas had built a vast empire. It might even be worth considering whether Mr. Strachey had much reason for pride. Indeed it might be asked whether the destruction of incentive hadn't disqualified the rugged virtues of independence and daring and initiative and concentration on a purpose; whether, indeed, the readiness to trade achievement for security may not bear some of the blame for the sad uncertainty of Britain today.

opinion are a reflection on the many who have done a good job.

And in closing, I would suggest that the Author of "Town Topics" check with the Canadian Legion, The Chamber of Commerce, The Women's Auxiliary to the Legion, The Buffalo Park Grange Association, and many others who have had and given most cordial co-operation in the matters mentioned, or let some of them speak for themselves.

Thank you.

GERALD

"Organisation in a Community" as a subject for discussion for Farm Forum on Monday night, seemed one on which there could be little discussion. All present felt that there are far too many organisations and activities to attend, but see no way to have fewer or to have larger memberships. It seems a subject for individuals to decide personally. This meeting was held in Wainwright at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Taylor. There were 15 present at this meeting. During the evening Mrs. Taylor thanked Mrs. Hamilton for her work as secretary for the group for the past four years and on behalf of all the members presented her with a beautiful cup and saucer. Mrs. Taylor served lunch, after there had been a short recreation period. Mr. and Mrs. J. Perkins and Brian left on Tuesday last week to attend the Edmonton Livestock Show.

Mrs. R. Degrell was a visitor in Edmonton for a few days.
Mr. and Mrs. J. Scherger spent a week in Calgary and district lately, where they hope to be living soon.

Mr. M. Stephenson and Mr. E. Myrland went to Kidderley, Sask. last Tuesday, returning home by the week-end.

Miss A. Zehnder was sent as delegate to the Women's Institute Conference that met in Edmonton on March 11st and 12nd, and Mrs. E. Erickson was appointed delegate to the Cancer Society Meeting that will be held in May, when the Gerald Women's Institute held their regular meeting on Thursday, March 16. This meeting was held at the home of Mrs. H. Strauss, with ten members present, and Mrs. A. La France presiding. Roll Call was answered by an exchange of cookie recipes and the donation of a pickle dish to the club. Mrs. H. Murray, who will soon be moving to Camrose, was presented with a cup and saucer by the members of this club. Mrs. P. Henderson was in charge of the contest which was won by Mrs. E. Erickson. All enjoyed the lunch served by Mrs. Strauss.

Seven of the young people from Gerald district attended the Junior F.U.A. party that was held in Trafalgar hall on Friday evening.

HEATH

Mrs. R. Messler returned home from Edmonton on Wednesday where she attended the funeral of her uncle there. Sympathies are extended to Mrs. Messler's mother Mr. H. H. Smith formerly of Heath through the loss of her brother, the late William Dickenson.

Mr. H. Bouck returned home from hospital on Wednesday with his foot much improved, although it will be some time before he is fully recovered.

We are sorry that Mrs. Joe Bell was taken ill on Saturday. She is now resting in hospital and we hope for a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Ford accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Stan Murray of Wainwright by motor on Sunday to Edmonton where they will spend a few days.

We note that the Heath rural mail days have been changed from their old schedule. We now receive our mail on Monday and Thursday.

The annual canvass for Red Cross funds is on and Mr. Jim Ford has been busy collecting as he has done for several years in the past. We hope you will be able to do this again next year as we all enjoy your visits Jim.

Many residents of the district have been ill with cold and flu. The latest victim in our district is Mrs. Earl Murray who has been in bed for several days.

The Clear Lake FWUA are holding a play, programme and dance in Heath school Friday, March 31st.

NO EXERCISE

A daily Donnybrook on a crowded bus or streetcar is no way to keep in good physical condition, but for many factory and office workers this is about the only exercise regularly taken. On the other hand, walking a few blocks each day is a fine way to help keep an expanding waistline under control. Try walking the last few blocks to work for a month or so and see if you don't feel, eat and sleep better.

GILES

George Koruk and Mike Treflak motored to Edmonton on Monday to attend the Bull Sale and also take to a hockey game.
We see Stanley Pugh sporting around in his new grey and black trim Mercury half ton truck and we also see Albert Bayer with his automobile. A few young folks took in the dance held at Gilt Edge Hall also the card party and dance at Gilt Edge School, all reporting a very enjoyable time.
Mike transport has been busy trucking cattle for Mike Treflak the past week.

WHITE CLOUD

Rumors are flying that we have a new store keeper, Mr. Bob Thomas, as soon as he is out of the hospital and able to take over from Mr. H. Craig. Mrs. Earnie Myer spent a few days at his home last week.
Lester Babb and Elmo Myer visited with Wayne Plaxton last Sunday.
Misses Eleanor and Myrna Plaxton stayed with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe McClennon several days last week.
Miss Betty Babb arrived on Friday's bus to spend the week-end at her home.

FANS OVER ORCHARDS
COULD AVOID FROST

WHITCHURCH, Cambridgehire, England—A vision of farmers fanning, not their brows, but their orchards—and a fruit growers' conference that the with propellers—was conjured up by an agricultural scientist.

R. A. Howe, head of the horticultural department of the National Institute of Agricultural Engineering, told his audience at a fruit growers' conference that the with propellers—was conjured up by an agricultural scientist.

He said that frost forms when the earth loses its heat. At the same time a little higher up, comparatively warm air circulates. He said the question was how to draw it down.

Huge propellers, their blades well above the trees, could do it, he said, and experts were trying to produce a type that would act as "air warmer" for as much as three acres of orchard land.

I'VE BEEN THINKING

than another, and perhaps more pernicious form of "counter" came on the market. I have on my desk a pulp picture magazine (confiscated, of course) entitled "Lovers' Lane." The contents can be generally judged by the story titles: "The Love Diary of a Jill," "Doctor's Honeymoon," "How Did He Propose?" "My Unknown Sweetheart," "The Love Clinic." The pictures show much adolescent emotion, some osculation, but on the whole are not nearly so objectionable as the titles would imply. The authors have used lurid and sometimes lascivious titles to attract buyers, but thereafter have exercised much moral restraint. Some of the stories contain helpful advice, but advice that probably could and should be obtained in the home.

But as the Crime Comics went from bad to worse until they had to be banned, so I look for the new "Sex Comics" to do the same. The desire to make a profit often leads people into grave extremes. These magazines need to be watched as they can easily become much more harmful than Crime Comics.

I dislike censorship intensely. I do dislike many of our laws designed to restrict personal freedom. But just as such laws are necessary because many people have not the decency or discretion to avoid abusing their privileges, so censorship must be applied for abuse of freedom of literary expression. If our publishers and distributors of literature would give more regard to public welfare and less to immediate monetary gains, censorship and bans would probably be unnecessary.

But as a teacher I have another and greater quarrel with comics. I doubt if their greatest harm is their effect on morals. Our young people are more and more obtaining their stories in picture form and are losing the ability to incubation to read. Undoubtedly the movies and radio are having a similar effect. People are losing the ability to create mental pictures; there is little need to use the imagination.

A short time ago the principal of a Stamford, Conn., Junior High School set out to discover the reason for an increasing number of failures among his students. He finally "blamed" it on television. One half of the students averaged as much as four hours a day before the television screen. Their favorite programs were "Hilton Hotel," "Sullivan," and "Six-Gun Playhouse."

I certainly have no desire to eliminate the movies and the radio (though I would like to improve their programs). They have great educational and entertainment value. Visual aids are extensively used in all modern and good schools. But we do utterly waste many hours a week on programs that if not harmful, are at least just "rot."

Maybe I am old-fashioned when I suggest that the art of reading should be retained by the masses. Maybe the greater civilization of the future we shall get our education, as we now get our music, canned. Professional readers shall gather the love of the past from books and prepare it for the screen. The masses, unable to read, shall become educated through the radio, television and movie technicians. I was born a century too soon.

In the Legislature

By Mr. Wm. Mason

Honourable D. B. MacMillan, on reporting to the House, stated that the anticipated road program for 1950 would exceed that of any previous year in Alberta's history.

Information was given to the House to show that on a per capita basis Alberta's grant towards education was the second to seven times as great as that of any province, with the exception of British Columbia and New Brunswick.

Some of the Opposition had suggested that oil revenue should be used to reduce taxation. Premier Manning replied to this by stating that there were reasons why the Government would not follow this practice.

In the first place, he stated, tax rates in Alberta are generally lower than the average for other provinces of Canada. Secondly, the financial position of Alberta is better than usual and thirdly, the general feeling of the public is that it is more desirable to increase services than to reduce taxes.

Speaking in answer to Mr. Frowe's criticism that $8 millions of dollars of the Provincial revenue is a gift from Ottawa under the Tax Transfer Agreement, Mr. Manning stated that far from such an amount being a gift from the Senior Government, it represented only a rental payment for the Dominion Government's exclusive use of the various tax fields in which they have complete jurisdiction during the life of the Tax Transfer Agreement. He pointed out to the House that the Alberta Government will give serious consideration to the amounts now being allocated by Ottawa in these tax fields before agreeing to renew the Agreement on the expiration of its present life.

Honourable Mr. Casey told the House that education today employed 4,500 people whose wages exceed twenty million dollars yearly. He stated that Provincial grants to school districts have increased from $4,307,000 in 1946 to $7,480,000 this year. This is an increase of 25% in four years. Teachers' pensions will cost the Government more than half a million dollars in 1950.

The House was told that the membership of the Farmers' Union of Alberta as at January 1st, 1950 was 4,435. In reporting to the House, Honourable D. A. Ure indicated that there are over a quarter million cattle that have been tested for T.B. and every effort is being made to test the entire area, between Calgary and Edmonton. District Agricultural Extension Economists last year contacted 175,000 people in an endeavour to assist farm people with their problems. More than a million trees will be planted in Alberta this year and every effort is being made to increase this quantity as an essential step in controlling soil erosion.

The Resolution was passed in the House requesting the Dominion Government to allow Old Age Pensioners to earn more money than at present without automatically having their pension reduced.

Considerable progress is being made in the passing of the estimates and it is probable that the House might complete its work by the end of the month.

Sports Camera

That fertile-brained chap, president Branch Hickey of the Brooklyn Dodgers, certainly sets the baseball world on its heels when he comes out with some new idea.

His latest is a mechanical umpire. Hickey has added that the gadget is not intended now or ever to replace the man in blue in actual games. He says it's to be used only for training and instruction.

Hickey, never shy in accepting credit for some innovation, is the guy who started the mass spring training system. Other clubs have followed his idea of getting all their teams—major and farm alike—together at one training camp where a platoon of coaches can look the players over and sort them out.

He also is the person who brought in the automatic pitching machine and the automatic batting machine. The pitching machine shoots balls at batters for batting practice while the hitting machine bangs out fungoes for infield and outfield catching practice. Now comes this "Cross-Eyed Electronic Umpire" as it's called. And Hickey once again may have something.

The "Umpire" was developed after nearly a year of research. It consists of lenses, mirrors, electric eyes and other electronic equipment which light a lamp when a ball is thrown through the strike zone of a batter. The lamp, however, won't light when the pitch is a ball.

The machine, which can be adjusted to any batter's height, is reported to work like this:

Lenses and mirrors enable three electric eyes to fence in the strike zone. The strike is called by the ball passing through the strike zone, casting its shadow on the electric eyes in definite sequence, thereby creating the electrical impulses which light the lamp. Simple.

The $2,000-machine is supposed to call them "closer than any normally endowed umpire." Its actual value, however, may not come in training but in the development and discovery of pitchers. Since the gadget can establish the speed of a fast ball, a reading can be taken of a present top major-league pitcher and scouts can match these figures against those of promising youngsters.

It's been a matter of debate for a long time whether most hockey fans prefer blood-and-thunder hockey or a little dirty work or whether they prefer the clean-cut game.

But whether those who love hockey prefer a little rough admit it or not they probably don't go for athletes making public statements that they are laying for each other.

Ken Reardon, a bruising defenseman with Montreal Canadiens, was named his season recently that the National Hockey League doesn't go for it either. President Clarence Campbell fined Reardon $1,000 for laying in a magazine interview he was going to get Toronto's Cal Gardner even if it took until the last game he played.

The two players had fought before and a grudge had developed between them. But if very athlete took that stand there soon wouldn't be enough players left to form a league.

NEW VARIETIES
NEED FAIR TEST

Plant breeders who are responsible for the development and introduction of new varieties are usually cautious in making recommendations on adaptability, disease resistance, maturity and the like. Such recommendations are naturally based on extensive tests covering different soils and climates, and they do not apply to individual farms and their local conditions. Small soil differences, lack of good drainage, low fertility, weeds and other factors may offer sufficient handicaps to the performance of a new variety to condemn it in the opinion of the grower.

When new varieties are being tried for the first time the grower must bear this in mind, for unless normal growing conditions are provided, it is not a fair test. If an unfamiliar variety is offered for sale outside the area for which it is normally recommended, it is best to make inquiries from reliable sources as to its origin and possible adaptability for other areas. Failing this, the seed should only be used at first for small scale trials.

CANADIAN AGRICULTURE

During 1949 there were 1.4 million head of cattle slaughtered under inspection in Canada and 318 thousand head of live cattle were exported to the United States. This total is 1.1 per cent below the inspected slaughter and livestock exports of 1948, and only 3 per cent below the high record established in 1945.

Before the war Canada produced only a small part of the cranberries consumed and the prices normally followed that set in the large export region centred around Cape Cod, Mass. Notwithstanding the new bogs planted and the old ones renovated, the Canadian crop still meets only a fraction of the demand.

The average value of occupied farm land in Canada for 1949 is reported by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics at $407 per acre. This represents an increase of only 5.5 per cent over the average value in 1948 but the increase over the 1935-39 level amounts to $47.

CANCER IS THE MOST CURABLE OF ALL MAJOR CAUSES OF DEATH... IF DETECTED EARLY!

KNOWLEDGE OF CANCER

(THE 4th IN A SERIES DEALING WITH CANCER)

Cancer is curable—provided it is detected early enough. As it is impossible for cancer specialists to make the rounds of Canadian homes to examine all members of the family, it is imperative, therefore, that the public take the initiative in this matter of cancer detection.

Such initiative is founded on an understanding of the symptoms, characteristics and treatment of Cancer on the part of the public.

To this end the Canadian Cancer Society urges every family head and individual to use the coupon below and write for free booklets and literature which provide pertinent facts on cancer.

FOLLOWING IN FATHER'S FOOTSTEPS

per cent.

Exports of Canadian dressed beef and veal to the United States in 1949 were 55 million pounds, equivalent to about 160 thousand head of cattle. This is a gain of about the equivalent of 30 head over 1948.

The world cotton crop is estimated at slightly less than 31 million bales of which United States growers produced over 15 million bales.

Debate in the House of Commons ended on a sober note last week-end as members heard Defence Minister Brooke Claxton tell them of Canada's preparations for a possible war.

If the country were attacked tomorrow, Mr. Claxton said, the attack probably would come from the sky.

Outlining Canada's defence planning as he opened study of a record $425,000,000 defence budget, the defence minister said that 12 meet the eventuality of an air attack, the R.C.A.F. is building a standing interceptor fighter force of "at least five squadrons" and the equivalent of about six other active squadrons ready for immediate action.

The R.C.A.F. already has two interceptor squadrons and the "equivalent of seven other squadrons, of one kind or another."

But a broader approach was being taken to defence, through co-operation of the Atlantic Pact nations, Mr. Claxton said they had agreed on a "strategic concept" for the integrated defence of the North Atlantic area. As part of this Canada had invited her allies to send 250 military officers here for training.

Officer training arrangements already exist with Britain, the United States and France, Mr. Claxton said. The other Atlantic Pact powers are Belgium, Holland, Portugal, Iceland, Italy, Norway, Luxembourg and Denmark. It was possible that Canadians might later be sent to those countries under a similar training arrangement.

Dealing with local defence in Canada, Mr. Claxton said his department has "completed the stage of planning civil defence at the federal level." This was interpreted as meaning a master plan has been worked out to cope with the effects of air attacks on Canadian cities.

Bells Bring Vote

The traditional throne-speech debate came to an end in the House of Commons last week amid a clamor of division bells and a display of the Liberal party's overwhelming majority.

In swift tempo, the division bells and a display of the Liberal party's overwhelming majority.

In swift tempo, the division bells rang out on the final day of the debate. And just as quickly the government's huge majority—largest in the history of the Canadian parliament—brushed aside two opposition motions of non-confidence in the government and approved the address in reply to the speech from the throne.

With a voting strength of 187 against a combined opposition of 71, the Liberal had no fear of a vote going against them.

Highlight of the speech from the throne was the government's announcement that additional assistance would be provided to help Canada's unemployed through the difficult winter months. The bill, providing for additional payments to about 100,000 job seekers, already has been passed and given royal assent.

Communications Boss

A new government-owned company is ready to go into business with a newly-appointed president. He is D. L. Howard of Montreal, assistant general manager of Canadian Pacific Communications since 1945, who was named to head the Canadian Overseas Telecommunications Corporation. Associated with communications services since 1949, he started his career as a telegraph messenger boy in his native Saint John, N.B.

The new company will nationalize the Dominion's external telecommunications under a Commonwealth agreement.

C.N.R. Plan

A $100,000,000 financial reorganization plan for the government-owned Canadian National Railways has been placed before the Royal Commission of Transportation by C.N.R. president Donald Gordon. His proposals were largely a matter of book-keeping between the railway and the government, and would give the company estimated savings of more than $50,000,000 a year to pull it out of the red.

Mr. Gordon's proposals called for wiping out interest payments on $75,000,000 worth of C.N.R. obligations held by the government, and the establishment by the government of $200,000,000 credit for the C.N.R.

The aim of reorganization was to let the C.N.R. operate, financially, in about the same manner as other railroads. At present the government takes away the C.N.R.'s surpluses and then pays off its deficits.

Record Preparedness

The extent to which Canada's record preparedness effort has become interwoven internationally was graphically illustrated on three fronts last week.

Brig. C. M. Drury, deputy minister of defence, headed for Washington for a series of conferences expected to touch on two-way sales of arms, among numerous other things.

Defence Minister Claxton for the second time in three months prepared to lead a Canadian delegation to Europe for meetings of the defence and military committees of the Atlantic Pact. He and his party will leave Ottawa this Saturday.

In addition the West-hush-hush defence conference Canada's capital has known since the war got underway. The conference was the second scientific gathering sponsored by the defence department's research board. It was launched under such stringent security precautions that no one would even say where it was held.

In attendance were Canadian, American and British scientists—experts in radar, in germ, gas, Arctic, psychological and other forms of warfare. Behind the conference is the exchange system that allows Canada to specialize in germ and gas and Arctic warfare, and to turn discoveries over to the other countries in return for their findings in other fields.

Encouragement

Canadian officials saw a sign of an encouragement in another defence development last week. It was an announcement of the first tri-national atomic meeting since the espionage case of Dr. Klaus Fuchs broke in England.

Canada's Atomic Energy Control Board announced that United States, British and Canadian representatives would meet in Ottawa this week to discuss problems relating to instruments for detecting and measuring radiances encountered in atomic energy work.

For weeks officials in all three countries have been wondering if the Fuchs case was going to mean an end to talks aimed at a new general agreement on exchange of information.

Fuchs, German-born but one of Britain's top atomic scientists, was sentenced recently to 14 years in prison for espionage on behalf of Russia. It had been feared his case would prompt the U.S., always reluctant to give away any atomic secrets, to break off negotiations.

Although the technical conference was to be at a working level, rather than a high policy level, Canadian officials felt the announcement at least meant that no sharp break in discussions is contemplated and that it might be the prelude to a resumption of the broader negotiations.

10 YEARS OF EFFORT OVERCAME PARALYSIS

NORTH BAY, Ont.—After 10 years of surgery, physical training and physiotherapy, 15-year-old Grenville Barton is back on his feet.

He was paralyzed from the waist down at the age of 15 when he was going to school. Since then with financial help from several service clubs, with surgical and therapeutic aid at Lyndhurst Lodge for paraplegics in Toronto, and with his own determination, Grenville has been fighting the effects of his paralysis.

It took a lot of teamwork and concentration, said staff members at the lodge, but the person most responsible for Grenville's recovery was Grenville himself.

On March 3 he started work in the North Bay Office of the department of lands and forests, beginning what is for him a new life.

"I'm just on my way to the bank"

He is just one of the hundreds who during the day will drop into the branch bank around the corner.

Savings depositors with their pay cheques... retail merchants with the day's cash... people consulting the manager about loans, others cashing cheques... it is all part of the daily work of the branch bank.

In ten years the number of accounts maintained by bank depositors has grown from 5,000,000 to 8,000,000.

This shows how Canadians have come to count on their local banks for a great variety of services. The banks keep pace with the growing needs of the nation.

LIBRARY NOTES

"The Pink House" by Nella Gardner White (author of "No Trumpet Before Hiss")

The story of the growing up of North Holsie, in the lovely and graceful house in New England, with its strange and fascinating people, its unrecurrents of hate, frustration and mystery. There was Aunt Rose, beautiful, elegant, cruel; Uncle John, hot-tempered and resentful; the four handsome cousins who excluded North from their enchanted circle. But there was also Aunt Polly, who impatient of their petty life, the corners, crippled child, demanded of her moral and physical strength she did not know she possessed.

"The Bird in the Tree" by Elizabeth Goudge.

This story tells of an old lady Lucia, and her fervent grandson, David. She finds her life's work and duty in caring for the lovely house of Damerosey and its garden, in which children and grandchildren may escape the turn of modern life. The place and the Eliot inheritance is especially dear to David, the best-loved of the grown-up grandchildren, involved in problems of the playhouse of the world.

The family he finds a solution to his problems in the peace of Damerosey. The love of children, the wisdom and charm of the old lady, the traditions of the house all bear their part in the solution. The reader is led to see that in spite of troubles and sorrow man's spirit has wings like the bird in the tree. "Emily Murphy, Crusader" by Byrne Hope, Sanders.

The story of Alberta's own beloved "Janey Canuck" a woman of tremendous power, driving energy and infectious humor. Because her life was so packed with interest and because she lived it so valiantly her story is absorbing. It is a record of a frank and gallant woman—truly a crusader.

"Happily Ever After" by Hartnell Spence

This is the humorous and inspiring story of an American couple's search for a new way of life. The author and his wife decide that country life alone will bring them the kind of family happiness for which they have been searching. This is the story of how they took the long way round to get it. In many ways it reminds one of Mr. Handbags Builds His Dream House.

Others

(By Mrs. E. Steel, Wainwright) Lord help me to live from day to day in this self forgetful way That even when I kneel to pray My prayers shall be for - OTHERS.

Help me in all the week I do To be alone and true And know that all I'd do for you Must need be done for - OTHERS.

Let "Bair" be crucified and slain And buried deep and all in vain May efforts be to rise again Unless to live for - OTHERS.

And when my work on earth is done And my work in heaven's begun May I forget the dream I've won While thinking still of - OTHERS.

Others, Lord yes, Others Let this my motto be Help me to live for others That I only live like Thee.

BUTTER MAKES IT BETTER
For centuries the incomparable flavor of butter has appealed to people throughout the world. In Canada, the making of butter in the home was a part of pioneer life. The commercial manufacture of butter has been established for many years and produces a more uniform product. Today we have more than a thousand creameries producing about three hundred pounds of butter each year.

Rationing of butter during the war years taught us to spread the bread a little more thinly and to do without that delicious little pat of butter in the baked potato or on other cooked vegetables. Habits are easily formed, whether good or bad, but many of us are still foregoing a flavour treat as well as a good nutritional investment by continuing the habit of going easy on the butter.

To counter new good butter may be when purchased, care must be taken to retain its sweet flavour. Butter should always be stored in a cool, dry place, away from all foods which have a distinct odour or flavour, as it readily absorbs foreign flavours. It should be kept in a covered container or well wrapped in the parchment paper in which it is purchased.

Butter is so smooth and flavourful that it makes an excellent spread for bread or toast and it adds extra goodness to cookies, cakes, desserts, soups and candies. The names "Butterscotch" or "Buttercrisp", where used in any of these products bring to mind the delicious odour or flavour of butter and texture.

Nothing beats a topping of crunchy buttered crumbs on a casserole dish. Often such a topping makes the dish forget that they are eating leftovers.

Another idea for topping is used on biscuits. Use your favourite recipe for baking powder biscuits but substitute 1/4 cup cornmeal for 1/4 cup of the flour. When the dough is rolled and cut, dip the tops of the biscuits in melt butter, then in cornmeal. Bake as usual in a hot oven, 400° F., and serve with butter and maple syrup, honey or jam.

The home economists of the Consumer Section, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, suggest trying the following recipes which they think are particularly good.

Apple Butterscotch Sauce
1/4 cup butter
1/4 cup brown sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
Pinch of salt
2 1/2 cups apple juice (20 oz. can)
Melt butter. Blend in sugar, cornstarch and salt. Cook until mixture is slightly browned. Add apple juice and cook, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens. Continue cooking for 5 minutes. Serve with steamed fruit pudding or hot gingerbread. Yield: six servings.

Butter Tarts
1/4 cup butter
1 1/2 cups brown sugar
1 teaspoon cornstarch
2 eggs
1 cup raisins or currants
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 tablespoons lemon juice
Pastry
Cream the butter and sugar. Add cornstarch and cream well together. Add well beaten eggs, fruit and flavoured. Line muffin or tart tin with pastry and fill almost to top with mixture. Bake in a very hot oven, 400° F., for 10 minutes. Reduce heat to 350 degrees F., and continue baking until done, about 20 minutes. Yield: 24 small or 12 large tarts.

Butter Wafers
1 cup melted butter
1/2 cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup sifted pastry flour
OR 1 1/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
Add butter to brown sugar, mixing well. Add vanilla and unbeaten eggs and beat well. Mix and sift flour, cream of tartar and soda and add to creamed mixture. Drop by half teaspoonfuls well apart on an unbuttered baking sheet. Bake in a moderate oven 350° F., for 5 minutes. Yield: eight dozen small wafers.

Wm. Miller Again Heads Chauvin Board Of Trade

A well-attended meeting of the Chauvin and District Board of Trade was held in W. Miller's office on Monday evening March 20th.

The minutes of the previous meeting which included references to the possibility of obtaining the services of Calgary Power or Canadian Utilities; the request to be made to the Government of Alberta Treasury branches for full-time banking service; matters pertaining to improved telephone service, and the hard-surfacing of the highway, etc. These were adopted on motion of Shantz-Pitman.

The president explained that owing to conflicting dates the annual meeting as called for March 18th had been deferred until tonight to obtain a better attendance.

R. D'Albertainson and L. Miller reported indirectly that they had located two different sources of interference. Reports were generally on better reception but still some bad noise at times. The committee were congratulated on their work, and asked to continue whenever possible to track down sources of interference.

Correspondence was read from Edmonton and their kind invitation to attend their dinner meeting on March 14th. It was regretted that the president was unable to make this trip at the last minute.

Discussion of the power situation ensued. The following committee was appointed by the chair: C. W. Ryall, R. D'Albertainson and G. G. Shantz, to check up on town plans and also probable load over 12 months.

Correspondence read with the Bank of Montreal, and Alberta Treasury Branches and their replies. This matter was again discussed.

Correspondence with Mrs. Coates was read, and members reported generally better service.

Mr. Puché stated there was some rumor of establishing an oil plant in Chauvin. Mr. Keith had also received some enquiry along this line. President advised he had heard a plant was being established at Marden. No action was taken.

The current action of parliament regarding the Crown Nest Rates was discussed. Mr. Murray and Mr. Ryall moved that this meeting go on record as opposing any upward revision of the Crown's Nest Rates, and that copies of this resolution be forwarded to the proper sources. C'd.

The president then declared the meeting open for the election of officers.

William Miller was nominated for the office of president by G. Puché. There being no further nominations, Mr. Miller was declared elected.

J. T. Murray was nominated, vice-president by C. W. Ryall, and declared elected.

O. Hawthorn nominated by A. E. Keith as secretary, and declared elected.

Messrs. Shantz, Fahner, Pitman, Puché and Saul were named to the executive committee.

The financial statement was read by the Secretary, showing a balance of $74.50 after disbursements of $2.00 for stamps and $5.00 for annual fees to the Alberta Chamber of Commerce. This statement was accepted on motion of Keith-Wahlberg, C'd.

Ryall-Wahlberg, that the annual fees be $1.00 per member and that each member try and secure all the business possible and also as many farmers as possible, this being a district board and not confined to the town alone.

Funeral Of J. Furlotte

A large number of friends gathered at the Church of the Sacred Heart, Wednesday, March 22nd, to pay their last respects to one of the real pioneers of Chauvin district, in the person of the late Joseph Furlotte.

Mr. Furlotte was born at Jaquet River, N.B., on January 15th, 1881. He came to Chauvin the same year as the railway grade, 1905, and too a homestead, nine miles southwest of the new village. Two years later he returned to the East where he married Miss Philomena Boudreau. The couple returned west a short time later and for thirty-three years made their home on the farm. In 1944 they retired and moved into Chauvin, where they took up residence in the Terman house on first avenue.

Joe had enjoyed quite good health until March 8th, when he suffered a severe heart attack. It was found necessary on March 12th to call the ambulance, and have him moved to the Wainwright hospital, where he succumbed on March 24th.

Mr. Furlotte was a hard working man, and a good neighbour. He and his wife underwent all the rigors of the pioneer days, and when he first came, was forced to go as far as Lloydminster to obtain groceries and other farm supplies. Travel was chiefly by oxen and the journey of nearly sixty miles was a long and arduous one, and the neighbours took turns at making the trips necessary.

For a number of years Mr. Furlotte was a member of the Killarney School board.

Rev. R. Berube conducted the funeral service.

The possibility of holding dinner or lunch meetings was discussed, but same was left open for the time being.

Keith-Pierce that the meeting adjourn with thanks to the president for the use of his office.

Interment was made in the R.C. cemetery. Pallbearers were: Romeo Benoit, P. Fuchs, G. Puché, J. Baxter, G. Ledru and J. Pare.

South Notes

Hello, folks! How do you like the weather? March is marching on and soon one day it will be April. There have been a few signs of spring reported, larks and gophers, paint and varnish too.

Mrs. Nellie Burch left here on Thursday for Dawson Creek, B.C. to visit her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lauren Johnson.

Brian Hager came home on Saturday night after a short stay in the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Hager and "Cnie" motored to Edmonton on Wednesday. Mr. Levitt is looking after the place in their absence.

Mrs. M. Stewart of Bittern Lake is here visiting her sister Mrs. I. Reed for a few days.

The mud is deep and getting deeper. Among those celebrating birthdays lately are, Gary Blume, Mrs. G. Skinner, F. Hager and L. Hager. Congratulations all!

Mr. and Mrs. J. Blume are expected back from Toronto this week, after spending the winter in the East.

PARADISE VALLEY

We regret to hear that Miss Evelyn Willis, teacher at Vangelit School, is a patient in the Lloydminster Hospital, March 22nd.

Visitors to Edmonton over the week were Mr. and Mrs. C. Elliott, Mr. Jim Storms, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Levitt, Mrs. R. Smith, Mrs. M. Hoskins, Miss H. Hoskins, Mrs. W. A. Gunn, Miss S. A. Gunn and Emil Knorr.

At the time of writing it would appear as if curling is over for the season. During the past week there has been quite a lot of activity in curling circles. Two of the men's rinks went to Lone Rock and brought back the Imperial Lumber Cup which has been visiting along the line all winter.

The ladies also made the trip to Rivercourt and won the men's pool. The men also came back with the Beaver Lumber Cup which had stayed away quite sometime ago. Since winning them they have been over to defend it against the McLaughlin ladies.

McLaughlin made a try for it on Thursday but were unsuccessful. The men had to defend their title twice. The ladies were just a fluke but ran into a much bigger fluke and went back empty handed. McLaughlin came over Thursday night and made a try but came out on the short end of the count, so unless the weather changes quickly, P.V. will have the job of polishing the cups for the summer months.

The battle between the President and Vice President is sort of hanging in the air. The score is we believe Pres. 21, Vice Pres. 15. Just what will happen if the remaining 24 games are not played we cannot say. The season has been quite successful and all are looking forward to next season, especially the High School and Farmers Bonspiel's creating a lot of interest.

Mrs. John McAmmond, Mr. Joe McAmmond and Mr. and Mrs. William McLeod attended the funeral of Mr. Joseph Thomas Tuck at Vegreville on Wednesday, March 22nd. Mr. Tuck was married to Mrs. McAmmond for many years. He was 77 years of age. The pallbearers at the funeral were six grandchildren.

The service was from the United Church to the Riverside Cemetery.

Mr. T. J. Anderson of Lloydminster has taken over the Meat Market lately operated by A. McLean. We welcome this family to our town and wish them every success in their business.

A special Easter service will be held at the United Church, Paradise Valley on Sunday, April 9th at 4 p.m. Rev. Mr. Morrison of Lloydminster will conduct the service.

The agitation for some form of improvement to the present ancient and unsatisfactory school set up is causing quite a lot of interest in the district. Ever since the first school was erected here the policy has been very near sighted. No sooner have they been completed than they are inadequate in the number of pupils attending. We have three buildings in the school yard now. One of the buildings is in its forty first year of service. The cost of heating all these buildings is no small item in the cost of operating and it is impossible to have any uniform temperature during the cold weather. Let us look ahead and build for the future.

Since writing the above the Imperial Lumber Cup has been lifted by Rivercourt as they came over Friday night and won it. It will thus remain there for the summer as the ice at Rivercourt is done and P.V. will have no chance to make a try for it until next year.

Jack London was once boasting of his musical ability: "When I was a boy," said the author impressively, "our town was hit by a flood. My father hopped onto a bed and floated down stream to safety."

"What has that to do with your musical ability?" asked the listener. "Well," explained London, "I accompanied him on the piano."

The Great Hero—Giving His Life

For Us.
The Lesson, St. Mark 11:1-19.
No doubt you have all seen a procession. You know how quickly the crowd gathered. Policemen probably had to hold back the people to allow the procession to pass. Some of you, perhaps, walked alongside the procession for some distance. Long ago there was a procession in the city of Jerusalem. As it approached, the people could be heard singing, "Hosanna to the Son of David; Blessed is He that cometh in the name of the Lord; Hosanna in the Highest." There in the midst rode Jesus on an ass. We may think to use an ass was a strange way to ride. But in Eastern lands the asses are very fine animals, swift as horses, and much bigger than they are here. Kings used to ride on them. Jesus chose that way of entering Jerusalem, because He knew that the people would all understand, when they saw Him, that He was their true King. There was great joy as the people welcomed Jesus in the procession they sang "Hosanna to the Son of David" which meant "Lord save this Son of David, or preserve this Son of David, heap favours and blessings upon Him." Many threw their brightly colored garments on the road for Jesus to ride over. Others pulled down branches from the Palm trees to place in the way, or to wave in the air. So you see how the church calls next Sunday, Palm Sunday. The procession entered Jerusalem. It was a joyous time, worthy of a king, but some of the people were disappointed for Jesus went through the city streets to the Temple. They had expected Him to do something to make Himself their earthly king. What a sight met His eyes, and what noise and confusion! Money-changers rattling their coins, men wrangling over the price of the animals for sacrificing. The din was so great that the noise could probably have been heard in the very inner Temple itself. Jesus was angry. Not many had seen Him angry before. God's House was being desecrated, and had become nothing but a market place. Jesus walked across the court and spoke to the rulers of the Temple. "Take these things away," He said. "My Father's House is not a place of business." Then He made a whip out of some ropes and drove the animals out and the merchants fled. Jesus made many enemies that day. Of course those who were carrying on business and making money were angry. Of course the rulers of the Temple who had permitted such a thing to go on were insulted at having their authority overthrown. But all that was nothing to Jesus. He knew that He was right in insisting that proper reverence should be shown to God's House. Although everyone was too frightened to resist, they stored up their grievances for another time. One man attempted to argue with Jesus. "Is it not lawful to offer sacrifices?" he asked. But Jesus silenced them all with His reply, "My Father's House shall be called House of prayer. You have made it a den of thieves."

Palm Sunday is the first day of the most important week of our Lord's life on earth. On this day Jesus faced the anger of those who in a few days would have Him arrested and put to death. The Great Hero as we have seen in the last few weeks never turned from what was right. In the end it cost Him His life. To kill Jesus, the people who hated Him thought, would be an end of Jesus. But it wasn't. He died and rose again from the dead. Next week we shall see how this happened.

LOCAL NOTES

On Friday, March 31st, the time of commencement of the picture show is changed to 7:30 p.m. because of the Masquerade dance to follow. The picture has been changed also—"The Great Mike" being substituted for "Frontiers of '49".

The carnival put on by the Legion was very successful from every point of view. The Social Committee of the Legion wish to extend a hearty vote of thanks to all members and non-members for their wonderful co-operation at the Carnival. That's the spirit boys! says the social committee chairman. A special thanks is extended to the ladies' Auxiliary for the delicious lunch served, particularly for the exceptionally good coffee.

Mrs. A. Pierce and Mrs. Lance Dickson left on the flyer Saturday night thus commencing their journey to England for an extended holiday.
The Nacac Exploration Company of Texas are making Edgerton their headquarters for the time being.

Mr. Garnet McMillan is in Wainwright hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Archer, were visitors to the city last week.

LEGION NOTES

The Carnival held on March 24th and 25th was a decided success. All the games and the lunch counter were well patronized. In spite of difficult road conditions we were pleased to see so many of our country residents present. The committee wish to pass on a special "Thank You" to all members and to a great many non-members who helped make a success of this carnival.
A special feature of the event was the fact that all prizes were purchased from our local business places. It was impossible to patronize all the stores, etc., but the committee have drawn up a list and at our Fall Carnival these business places will be patronized. I think this is a wonderful idea as it gives the Legion a chance to patronize these business places which have given up so much help in keeping our Memorial Hall in a strong financial position.

In the advertising columns of the Star please note that for this Friday only the show will start at 7:30 p.m. in order to give more time for the High School Dance.

Labels are guide to better buying farm wives told

EDMONTON—How to buy what to buy is the housewife's biggest problem.
In handling the three biggest items of her household budget—food, clothing and furniture.

Some 118 women, most of them farm wives from rural Alberta, were given a briefing on these topics when they attended the seventh annual agricultural short courses held here recently.

Home economist Ruth Whaley, of the Alberta agriculture department told them one of the cardinal rules of food buying is to read labels on tinned and packaged groceries, noting quality, weight and government-approved labels.

Most shoppers do this, she said. A recent survey showed 88 per cent of shoppers read the labels on foodstuffs, whether they understood their full meaning or not.

Housewives should beware of spur-of-the-moment shopping, or jumping at bargains that may turn out to be of no use economically or nutritionally.
A grocery list was best.

Price Not Everything
Clothing expert Margaret Fraser said it is "not always true" that price is a guide to quality.

Priced manufacturers and retailers often an article high above its value, knowing the psychological effect on many buyers who assume that a higher price means a higher quality.

Comparative buying and a knowledge of texture and quality were important in getting good value and a higher quality in clothing.

Look at the label, said Miss Fraser.
It should tell the shopper the type of fibre, how it is made, what can be expected of it in color-fastness, sun-fastness and washability, and the proper care of the material. If more shoppers asked to see labels on garments, it would force manufacturers to label their goods for the protection of the consumer.

Home designer Caroline Judson said family requirements rule how a room is furnished. Furnishings suitable for a family of adults would not fill the needs of one with small children.

"No one can advise you on the style of furnishings to choose," Miss Judson said. "That is a matter of personal taste. But you can be guided insofar as quality and value are concerned."

OPINIONS FROM FARMERS

The consensus of opinion here is that dusters are satisfactory for our conditions and will become increasingly popular. The duster is considered easier to operate than spraying machines and can be as effective in weed control.—Department of Agricultural Engineering, University of Saskatchewan, May, 1948.

"Some of the fall wheat we did not get in before we dustered, but made a crop of 25 bushels to the acre, most of which must be attributed to the dust. We dustered in weeds from up to 40 miles per hour and were amazed to find that the dust did not even drift across the road."—L.M.C. Overdale, Alta., Feb. 1949.

"I dustered over 400 acres. I left two small plots in different fields as a check; the difference was amazing. The improved stand and corresponding yield increase of at least 10 bushels per acre, made duster a very profitable operation."—J.E.D. Benson, Sask. Feb. 1949.

"We dustered 100 acres while a spraying outfit in a nearby field did 35 acres."—J.P.P. Halarvoss, Sask. Jan. 1950.

"The wheat was so smothered by a solid mass of wild mustard in flower two feet high, that I decided to plow it down as a total loss. I decided to try a T & T duster and dust as I had nothing to lose if the treatment failed. Unfortunately, we had an early frost which greatly reduced the yield, but I still harvested 9 bushels to the acre. In that one operation my duster and dust were completely paid for, with money left over for other expenses."—J.H.K. Trochu, Alta. November 1949.

"Some of my wheat was so badly infested with weeds that I decided to plow it down. My neighbor offered to loan me his T & T duster. I dusted the wheat, and got 25 bushels per acre. Please accept my order for a T & T duster."—A.F. St. Rose du Lac, Man. Oct. 1949.

"I used a T & T duster and dust on 300 acres with excellent results. My twins bill was cut down considerably and I figured I received an increase of 10 bushels per acre on the area I dustered."—J.H. Inglis, Man. October 1949.

"I used a T & T duster and T — T dust and saw well. I am satisfied the increased yield netted me $1,500.00—H.H.H. Milken Sask. Sept. 1949.

"This T & T duster cannot be beaten. I used 1900 lbs of T & T Ester dust last summer. I would not have a spray machine at any price."—W.E.C. Bullock, Sask. Dec. 1949.

"I used your duster and T & T dust on French weed, pig weed and Russian thistle and I am well satisfied on the whole operation and have made considerable money this year due to your T & T dust—F.A.B. Conquest Sask. Advertisement.

When You Treat Your Crops For Weeds

You want the best results you can get and as cheap as possible. These results can only be obtained by GREEN CROSS ESTER FLUID. This liquid penetrates in a few seconds.

If you use dust, a shower of rain could spoil your work, also if the dust filters into your neighbor's field and his crop is in the same stage you could have a damage suit on your hands.

Prices have been reduced on all 2-4-D Products About 46%

The acid content has also been increased. You can spray your crop for about 35 cents an acre. Dusting will cost you about 75 cents.

The 17.7 per-cent vote of confidence in King Leopold won from the Belgian people appears to have been too few to return an invitation for the king to return to his throne.

The king is en route for surrendering peacefully to the Nazi blitzkrieg, received the small majority in a plebiscite earlier this month. But there were solid blocs in French-speaking Wallonia and in the industrial centres—who opposed his return.

Last week the opposition, led by the anti-Leopold Socialist party and affiliated trade unions, blossomed out with a storm of strikes and sporadic violence.

In the largest anti-Leopold demonstration ever held in the country, the Socialist trade unions called a 24-hour general strike in Brussels, the capital. Catholic unions, politically in favor of the pro-Leopold Social Christian party opposed the strike.

More than 15,000 workers paraded in the streets of Brussels in a one-day strike, carrying inflammatory slogans such as "Death to Leopold" and "Abdication!" Bands of strikers stoned and wrecked trolleys which ran in defiance of the strike order. Sabre-wielding mounted troopers were called out to quell the outbreak.

Meanwhile, several attempts were made to form a new government. The Social Christian-Liberal coalition of Premier Gaston Eyskens had collapsed because the Liberals would not support a motion to bring back the monarch. The plebiscite stood only as an invitation: permission of parliament was necessary to recover Leopold of Belgium.

Some opposition forces urged that the king abdicate promptly. Others urged that he be returned to the throne, then abdicate "in due course" in favor of his 18-year-old son, Baudouin.

At the week-end, the Social Christians were considering calling new general elections in a do-or-die attempt to gain a parliamentary majority strong enough to bring back their king with no strings attached.

New Archbishop
The largest Roman Catholic ecclesiastical province in Canada—Montreal—has a new archbishop. He is Montevideo, Paul-Emile Levesque, 48-year-old rector of the Pontifical Canadian College in Rome.

He succeeds Archbishop Joseph Charbonneau, who left Montreal Jan. 31 to enter a nursing home in Victoria, B.C. His resignation came some weeks ago, announced on the grounds of ill health. The former Archbishop of Montreal has been appointed assistant to the Pontifical throne and Roman count.

The archbishop-elect, except for brief periods in Canada, has been in Rome since his appointment to the Canadian College in 1947. His archdiocese numbers more than 1,000,000 Roman Catholics, and in the ecclesiastical province of Montreal, which includes the dioceses of St. Hyacinthe, Sherbrooke, Valleyfield, Joliette and St. Jean de Quebec, there are more than 1,500,000 members of the faith.

Deck Trouble
With United States arms shipments under the Atlantic Pact ready to move to Europe, Britain and France looked to their experts for signs of Communist attempts to stop the shipments.

In France a Communist-led dockworkers union ordered a day-long strike in all French and Tunisian ports. Communists have said they will attempt to stop the unloading of any arms that could be used against Russia.

And in England the Communist London Daily Worker said British workers "must support the militant workers of Europe who are resisting the hands of arms by developing a similar campaign in Britain." Deputy Prime Minister Herbert Morrison accused the Communists of plotting new troubles for British industry and trying "to make the biggest mess they can of the affairs of Britain and of all Western Europe."

Lottery Will Wait
Quebec has a lottery bill which has been approved by the legislative assembly. But no lottery can or will go into effect until the Criminal Code of Canada is amended to permit it.

Premier Duplessis told the legislature, that the Quebec lottery bill is not a "challenge or a desire to transgress the Criminal Code of Canada." Under the Quebec bill, profits of the annual lottery would go to aid health and education.

Flight To Germany
United States occupation officials in Germany had a problem on their hands at the week-end. Three airplanes, carrying 45 persons from Czechoslovakia, landed unexpectedly near Munich. The U.S. air force said that about 68 of the 85 Czechs wanted to return to their Communist-ruled homeland.

An announcement by U.S. officials did not say whether the landing was part of a mass organized plot by refugees. Two of the planes had "landed voluntarily." The other put down "with the chief pilot at the point of a gun." The announcement said nothing about the intentions of the 23 persons who hadn't announced their intention of returning to the Soviet-satellite nation.

HUDSON'S BAY CO. 200-YEAR-OLD TRADING EMPIRE

The 200-year-old Hudson's Bay Company is the oldest trading firm in the world, the second largest fur dealer (only the Russian state monopoly is larger), and still has 203 trading posts, says Ray Gardner in the April Readers Digest. Some of its early fur posts were great cities—Winnipeg, Edmonton, Victoria. Here the Company's original log houses have evolved into department stores still selling the famous Hudson's Bay blankets but also everything you can think of and some things you probably can't.

Gardner's article, condensed from Maclean's, says the Company runs a Persian-lamb ranch in South Africa, a fur-breeding farm, vast beaver preserves, a shipping fleet, a cargo airline, and a radio network. It sells big game farms over 40 and mineral rights on 4 and a half million acres, sells hay and timber rights on 30 islands it owns in the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

Once the Company, owned two-fifths of Canada, the article says. It made the laws and enforced them. It could buy a man or marry him. It issued its own currency and levied its own taxes. It had the power to raise an army and to declare war. Once it did just that, fighting a ten-year war against the French, complete with naval battles in Hudson's Bay.

Two French freebooting fur traders, Pierre Expit Radisson and Medart Chouart, "the most daring pair of international promoters in the history of commerce," founded the Company, Trouble with the French Governor of Quebec drove them into the arms of the English, impressed by the prospects for profit. King Charles II issued in 1670 a charter "To the Governor and Company of Adventurers of England trading into Hudson's Bay." This gave to the Company "the whole trade of those seas, straight, bays and creeks all the territory drained by the rivers flowing into Hudson's Bay, King Charles, the author observes, gave away to the original 18 proprietors more of North America than his or anyone else knew existed—about a million and a half square miles.
